

Project Manager & Technical Project Manager: Mobile Software & Services

The Project Manager is responsible for managing Starcut's large scale client delivery projects involving our MediaOne mobile publishing software and related professional services.

Starcut is an award-winning international leader in providing mobile services and software products to publishers and brands as well as media and the entertainment industry. The company combines innovation and creativity with advanced technical solutions to create world-class digital and mobile experiences. With offices in New York, Helsinki and Singapore, Starcut has built and launched more than 300 mobile sites.

This position is New York City-based. Responsibilities include the following:

- Manages and leads multiple projects simultaneously.
- Ensures the defined project entity reaches the set goals, objectives and deliverables.
- Defines milestones, deliverables and resources.
- Supports sales in costing of services work.
- Handles day to day resources management for the project.
- Ensures timely and clear project communication both internally and externally.
- Maintains and develops customer relationships.
- Develops our in-house processes and reporting related to project management.
- Delivers market and customer feedback to Product Organization

A successful applicant will be a proven expert in project management (min. 3-5 yrs.) working experience in multinational environment combined with a solid understanding of media and/or mobile industry. Project Managers should have hands-on experience from sizable mobile and/or internet software & services development projects and related technologies. In addition, applicants need to have comprehensive understanding of PM process in general accompanied by strong presentation and communication skills. We value the ability to translate customer wishes into a clear solutions definition and to give direction for the rest of the project team. Excellent negotiation & contracting skills and an understanding of digital marketing are a plus.

As a professional you should have the ability to operate in highly competitive, chaotic and fast moving industry with a flexible attitude; be able to establish strong mutually beneficial relationships with the client and partners as well as the Ability to work collaboratively with colleagues. You should be a self-starter, capable to do multitasking and still attend to details.

Starcut offers an international, dynamic working environment and opportunities for professional and personal development. The salary is very competitive with excellent benefits. Starcut is an EOE.

Please send a cover note and your resume to: careerusa@starcut.com